

Samuel B. Preston

Sam Preston has over 30 years of experience in financial services both as a Operations and IT manager and general business manager in the U.S and Europe. Sam spent over 20 years at Chase Manhattan Bank where he was Business Executive and General Manager in institutional, investment banking and retail divisions. Subsequently he was Managing Director at Rabobank responsible for Operations and IT here and then in Europe. He later became Senior Advisor to the Managing Board of NIB Capital Bank in The Hague.

Sam has a track record of turnarounds by returning a number of divisions to profitability after long periods of losses. He also specializes in placing proper controls in place pre and post audit.

Sam is an expert on funds transfer settlement practices and wrote the rules for U.S. Canadian settlement practices, the U.S. settlement practices and chaired the ABA Committee on Standard Settlement Practices. He has lectured at New York University, where he is an Adjunct Professor at the Stern School, American Bankers Association, Bank Administration Institute, Bank Cost Accounting Association, International Financial Services Association and Council on International Banking on subjects such as Operational Risk, Settlement Practices, Operational Quality Control, Cost Accounting in Securities Operations, and Change Management.

Education

Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania, Masters in Business Administration
Washington and Lee University, B.A. in Economics